Engineers Undertake Vast County Road Study

The Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors entered into a $160,000 contract with the Tudor Engineering Company of San Francisco for a long range study of the county's future highway needs Tuesday.

The study will be paid by three agencies, by the county, cities and state, a third of the cost to be defrayed by each political subdivision.

MARK KERMIT, traffic engineer of the county, pointed out to the supervisors in a cover letter to them presented early in the month:

"It should be emphasized that the City-County Thoroughfare Study ignores political boundary lines and looks to reserving sufficient right of way now for ultimate road widths and a reasonable schedule for building roads and streets as the need arises."

The project's goal is to find the saturation point of the county as far as population is concerned. This saturation point is now estimated at between one million and 1.4 million persons by the year 2000, according to Vic Sauer, public works director.

Kermit stated "We want a road network that will serve the ultimate needs of a saturated county. If we assume that this state of saturation will exist by year 2000, it is conceivable that through economic processes and pressures this state of saturation may be achieved in various parts either before or after that day, it may conceivably arrive in either 1970 or 2050."

"Land use as it pertains to such a study has a slightly different meaning than the planner would ordinarily attach to it.

"What we mean is, not only the use that land is put to, but more specifically the amount of traffic that is generated by the various economic, residential, and recreation uses made of the earth's crust. It is, therefore, necessary to look at our present-day land uses and then enlist the aid of planners to predict what the future land use and intensity of land use will be, so that we may be able to predict the future generated traffic.

"The planner becomes then as important a member of this study group as the engineer, for it is he who must be able to predict what the specific changes will be. That there will be changes in land use we all know. All we have to do is look at the present development in the Concord area where portions of land are changing from residential to controlled manufacturing use, or our agricultural land in the eastern portion of the county which is changing from agricultural to controlled and heavy manufacturing," he continued.

"The next thing that must be given careful consideration is population, for it is people who generate traffic.

"In the final analysis, it is the people who will determine whether through an ever increasing use of the automobile, an ever increasing mileage of roadways will have to be built, or whether they will be satisfied with and use mass transit.

"So far, the conclusion is inescapable, that the motor vehicle is the best means man has yet devised to transport himself from one place to another. However, the predominance of one type of transportation is causing increasingly severe problems, especially during the morning and evening peak hours," Kermit stated.

"ANOTHER FACTOR that must be considered is motor vehicle registration and motor vehicle characteristics. This is important because our roads must be designed to carry the predicted traffic. The composition of traffic and the percentage of various classes, such as passenger vehicles or commercial vehicles, will determine design and geometric standards.

"After considering these three basic factors, that is, land use, population and motor vehicles, the next logical step which can be taken is the determination of the existing traffic pattern as it fits the existing roadway network.

"To do this, it is necessary to make an Origin and Destination Survey. This, together with the land use prediction, is really the very heart of this study. It will give us the facts of what exists today, which in turn will furnish a clue to what the future will bring," the traffic engineer said.

New Legislation Will Affect County

By LOU CANNON

Contra Costans will be affected by literally hundreds of the 2424 bills approved by the 1957 legislature and signed by Governor Goodwin Knight.

New laws, most of them effective September 11, will allocate an additional $37 million for state schools, raise teachers salaries, increase old aid pensions, aid to needy children and the blind, create a two-county transit district and a Bay Area five-county rapid transit district and allocate $850,000 for mental health clinics.

CONTRA COSTA will have a new municipal court, will have a new superior court, and has new county employee retirement legislation as a result of the 1957 session.

Concord will be able to raise its hospital district tax rate and construct a 99-bed addition to the present hospital because of a measure authored by Assemblyman Donald Doyle and Senator George Miller Jr.

Another county measure authored by Assemblyman S. C. Masterson and co-sponsored by Doyle and Miller will raise the salary of Contra Costa Supervisors and the county district attorney.

STATE WORKERS in the county will receive a 5 per cent increase from funds appropriated in the record budget.

The $190 million-plus budget is the largest for a single year of any state in the nation. A few states have larger total budgets, but these funds must last for a two-year period, while California will convene a budget session again in 1958.

MUCH of these funds, as county legislators hasten to point out are fixed into the State Constitution by amendments that have been approved by the voters. And over a billion will come back to the counties and municipalities directly through subventions to local government.

MAJOR RECONSTRUCTION of the Bay Bridge—and a probable death for the Army Street southern crossing—is impending because of a bill authored by Senators Arthur Breed (R-Oakland) and Robert McCarthy (D-San Francisco).

State workmen's unemployment compensation was boosted to $50 weekly under terms of a bill authored by Senator Hugh Burns (D-Fresno) and co-authored by many in both houses.

And the state will derive a larger share of offshore tidelands revenue under terms of a bill submitted by Allen Miller (D-San Fernando).

Legislation allowing the establishment of mental health clinics in existing medical institutions was finally approved.

A SIMILIAR BILL authored by Doyle passed the Assembly last session but failed in the Senate. This time, co-authored by Alan Short (D-Stockton) in the Senate and supported by the administration, the bill received passage.

Also passed were laws originally recommended by an Assembly interim subcommittee allowing school boards to choose more than one text in some courses rather than the single state-adopted text. The state period of textbook adoption and renewal was changed.

Among the last of the 2424 measures signed by the governor was a bill boosting state old age pensions from $89 to $105 a month, depending on need.

SIXTY-SEVEN MEASURES extending or creating limitations on governmental secrecy were approved by the governor.

But Knight also vetoed measures to the tune of $63 million of appropriations.

In all, 222 bills died by pocket veto and 23 measures were vetoed outright by the governor.

"MANY OF THE measures from which I withheld appropriation approval or reduced the appropriation were for worthy purposes," the governor said, "but in order to keep the state in solvent condition, drastic financial action was required."

No action was reached by the legislature on one of the session's most controversial items—water.

But an interim committee has been appointed that, according to Assemblyman Doyle, "will, I believe, come up with an answer at a special session called by the governor."

ALL CONTRA COSTA legislators showed caution in acceeding to southern California's request for more immediate water. Senator Miller, particularly, warned of the dangers of establishing priority rights for southern Californian water users in northern California.

An interim committtee has also been established to study overall state taxation problems.

While most of this record amount of legislation will not become effective until September, some bills having urgency clauses —such as the school bill—became effective immediately after being signed by the governor.

Local Men Sue 2-County Transit District

Attorney General Rules Two County District to Courts

Permission to sue the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District to test the validity of the inclusion of the cities of Richmond and San Pablo in that district, was granted today by Attorney General Edmond G. Brown to five taxpayers of Contra Costa County.

Confining the suit to the two cities, Brown denied the group leave to sue to test the formation of the district as a whole, maintaining it was established under the required two-thirds majority favorable vote.

SIMULTANEOUSLY, Brown declared that any injnction to restrain assessment of taxes, except in the disputed areas, would have to be further approved by the Attorney General's office.

The transit issue was clouded in the November, 1956 election establishing the districts when absentee ballots were counted by assembly districts instead of by unincorporated and incorporated areas.

Alamada County's vote was so overwhelmingly in favor of the district that the favorable vote majority was greater than the number of absentee ballots.

However the city of Richmond gave a 66 majority favorable to the district, with 545 absentee ballots having been cast in the city area.

THE MAJORITY in San Pablo was 5 votes, with 105 absentee ballots being cast. In the 11th Assembly District, which includes Richmond and San Pablo, and some unincorporated area, there were a total of 1282 absentee ballots cast, 698 in favor, 268 against and 316 not voting.

Taking the points made by the citizen's group, Brown's opinion declares:

1. THE TRANSIT district as a whole is validly approved by the voters under the legislative act permitting the formation. The order to the board of supervisors to canvass the returns "of each city and each parcel of unincorporated territory, if any, separately" abides by the legislative intent and "even if there is an inconsistency, it would not invalidate the entire Transit District Law," as it abides by the general elections code.

2. The applicants represent only persons having interests in the cities of Richmond and San Pablo, and in unincorporated areas of Contra Costa County. Their rights will be adequately protected if they are given the opportunity to test the validity of their own inclusion in the district.

Alameda County has already voted overwhelmingly to establish the district. The same is true of the cities of El Cerrito and Walnut Creek in Contra Costa County.

3. THERE IS NOTHING in the statute which expressly supports an interpretation that the unincorporated towns of Contra Costa County should have been canvassed separately. The statute, however, does not clearly define the method used in canvassing the Contra Costa County unincorporated area.

This should be examined by a court in light of the opposition of residents and landowners of the unincorporated areas. Where a large number fo ballots become ineffective in a situation where it could have made a difference in the outcome of an election, the issue should be decided by a court.

Any attempt by the applicants to seek an injunction pending the decision by the courts must first be approved by the Attorney General's office.

Food Inspection Law Is Passed Over Objections

The County Board of Supervisors on Tuesday voted 4-1 in favor of a new ordinance assessing food handling establishments from $2 to $8 per year for their inspection by an augmented Health Department staff.

The dissenting vote was cast by Supervisor Warren (Bud) Buchanan, who said the new law "will only add to the county payroll and be another harassment of the small businessman."

He added that since the public and not the food handlers will be the main beneficiaries, then the public should foot the bill.

THE ORDINANCE, which has been in the preparation stages for months, will allow the Health Department enough new personnel to provide for inspection of each food dispensary four times a year.

County Health Officer Henrik Bloom has been campaigning for the ordinance for years.

The supervisors instructed him to proceed with negotiations with cities in the county toward adoption of similar ordinances, which the county has offered to enforce by agreement.

The city of Richmond has its own inspection system, and will not require county help.

OPPOSITION TO the ordinance came from representatives of Lucky Stores Inc., Safeway Stores Inc., East Bay Grocers Association and California Grocers Association. They stated that most of their products are inspected

Excepted from the inspection is the Walnut Growers Association of Walnut Creek, on the basis that its products are inspected during processing.

Inspected by other agencies and so excepted from the county law are establishments processing meat, milk and poultry, frozen food lockers, canneries and slaughter houses.

The fee drops from a maximum of $8 to a minimum of $2 where the establishment sells food as an incidental to its main business.

School District Tells Of Classroom Shifts

Several changes will take place during the next school year in the assigning of children to the various schools in the Orinda School District.

These changes will come about because of the desire on the part of the school district to do everything possible to eliminate "Double Sessions" at any of the schools and to keep the size of the class in each school as low as possible

The school population is rising faster than the district's ability to build additional classrooms. Shifting pupils in certain sections of the community seems to be the most logical way to stem this tide of growth. Since it is possible to move pupils from various neighborhoods without doing any personal harm, school authorities have announced the following "shifts" to become effective when school opens in September.

GLORIETTA SCHOOL

The Glorietta School will consist of grades K through 4th. The 5th grade pupils in the Glorietta area will attend the Orinda school and the 6th grade pupils will attend the Pine Grove School.

Those pupils who live on Orchard Road, Scenic Drive, Owl Hill Road, Estates Drive, etc., and who last year attended Del Rey School, will be transferred back to Glorietta (K to 4th). Fifth grade pupils from this area will attend Orinda School and sixth grade pupils will attend Pine Grove School.

The application for three additional classrooms, one library, and one kindergarten room for Glorietta is now being processed by the State Department of Education.

Negotiations are still in progress for three additional acres of property adjancent to Glorietta, and appraisals for this property have been ordered by the Board of Trustees.

The preliminary plans for the additions have been approved. It is hoped that construction can start on Glorietta sometime within the next two or three months and that the rooms will be ready for occupancy late in the spring of 1958.

DELREY SCHOOL

The Del Rey School will have grades K through 6th. Children who live on Moraga Highway and Upper Orchard Road will continue to attend Del Rey School. Children who live on Orchard Road, Scenic Drive, Owl Hill Road, Estates Drive, etc., and who attended Del Rey last year will be transferred back to Glorietta School.

ORINDA SCHOOL

The Orinda School will have grades K through 6th. Children living on Don Miguel, Manzanita, Bobolink, Los Altos, as well as those living near the Country Club including lower Camino Sobrante, La Cuesta, El Patio, Las Cascades, Mira Loma, Via Farallon, etc., and who have been attending Sleepy Hollow, will attend the Orinda School. The fifth grade pupils from the Glorietta Area will also attend the Orinda School.

SLEEPY HOLLOW SCHOOL

The Sleepy Hollow School will have grades K through 6th. Children living on Don Miguel, Manzanita, Bobolink, Los Altos, as well as those living near the Country Club including lower Camino Sobrante, La Cuesta, El Patio, Las Cascades, Mira Loma, Via Farallon, etc., who have been attending Sleepy Hollow will be transferred to the Orinda School.

Even with these pupils reassigned to the Orinda School, Sleepy Hollow remains very crowded. It is expected that the new classrooms will be completed by January, 1958. Until the time they are completed, the first and second grades at Sleepy Hollow will be on Double Session.

Bids for the construction of three classrooms and a multi-purpose room will be opened Monday. At the same time there will be a paving bid opened for the paving of some 16,000 square feet on the lower playground. Both of these propects are for the Sleepy Hollow School.

PINE GROVE SCHOOL

The Pine Grove School will continue to serve 7th and 8th grade students from the entire district. In addition, at least for 1957-58, there will also be three classes of sixth graders, all from the Glorietta area.

The six-classroom addition at Pine Grove will be completed about August 15, and will be ready to occupy y September 4.

'Twas A Cool Week Locally

Cool enough to suit you?

Well, if it isn't better quit your complaining because the odds arn't very good on the temperatures getting any lower for awhile.

Last week, the thermometer climbed no higher than 75 on five of seven days. The other times, Monday and Tuesday, the mercury recorded only 88 and 85, respectively.

Sunday, this reporter even overheard a heretic mutter, "It's too cold (75) for swimming."

Which all goes to show you.

Association Directors Find New Problems on Property

Directors of the Orinda Association found new problems to solve at their Monday night meeting. Not one, but two complications entered into their discussions.

1. Can the Orinda Association legally or morally sell their existing land without obtaining another site at the same time?

2. CAN THE DIRECTORS give a 50 foot strip of property to the library committee for use as a street when the proposed library is built?

The first problem was brought out by Ernest Spiegl, incorporation committee chairman, since the association is a guardian of a 9-acre site which surrounds the Orinda Community Church.

Of the total acreage 1.45 acres have been promised to the library association for construction of a library. The church has offered $30,000 for the remainder of the property.

Pere Brown, chairman of the library Fund Drive Committee, pointed out to the directors that the sale of the 50-foot strip to the church might interfere with plans of the library to build now and expand later.

SPIEGL SAID THAT if the property is sold without other property being purchased it might be said that incorporation was being pushed only to buy the Pine Grove property which is at present owned by the Pacific Intermountain Express Company.

Gene Estes, president of the board, said PIE had made an offer to the association last May which might make it possible for the association to purchase the property. PIE has stated that it does not wish to locate its proposed $750,000 office building in Orinda.

The association has decided although that it will continue to oppose the rezoning of the Contra Costo County Board of Supervisors and the rule of the courts chaging the Pine Grove property from Residential Agricultural to Administrative Office.

ESTES NOTES THAT the board will take all steps posible to take advantage of the offer made by the trucking concern.

Meanwhile, both the cities of Concord and Walnut Creek have shown that they are desirous of having the PIE company locate in their respective communities.

The Civic Affairs Committee of the Orinda Association will study the question of whether a representative committee should be formed to make an impartial study of fluoridation of drinking water.

The question has long been pondered by Orinda residents and there is a committee now in operation urging the use of fluoride in drinking water, but, no committee making a study of both sides of the question, the directors learned.

Snug Harbor Job Contract Let to Oakland Firm

Directors of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District awarded a contract to Manuel Marquez of Oakland for laying of the Snug Harbor sewer line.

His bid was $10,660. The sewer line will cost the residents of the area about $1500 per home, according to G. A. Horstkotte, engineer manager.

William Dalton, Martinez, assistant Contra Costa County Public Works Director, was appointed assistant district engineer. His pay will be $875 per month.

2 Critically Hurt In 2-Car Wreck Monday Morning

Two persons were critically injured and a third suffered a broken leg in a two-car accident on Mt. Diablo Boulevard and Hidden Valley Road, Lafayette Monday morning.

In Kaiser Foundation Hospital, Walnut Creek in serious condition are Melvin D. Jeppsen, 27, 1865 Pacheco Boulevard, Martinez, and his passenger Leslie Carollyn Gaboury, 24, 1112 Elm Street, Martinez.

The driver of the second car, Sam H. Miller, 57, 10 Ellery Court, Walnut Creek, is in Southern Pacific Hospital and was reported as having a fractured right leg.

Miller is reported to have taken 25 sleeping tablets and telling his wife he was going out to commit suicide after downing three shots of whiskey, according to a report of the Contra Costa Sheriff's Department.

Mrs. Miller had telephoned to the Lafayette substation that the had taken the pills and threatened to commit suicide.

Miller was westbound on Highway 24, 420 feet west of Hidden Valley Road, shortly after midnight when he hit the Jeppsen car broadside, according to the California Highway Patrol.

The highway patrol noted that the case is under investigation.

Hospital Will Be Discussed

Walnut Creek councilmen will hear proposals for financing a new 50-bed hospital within the city limits in time for their next meeting, August 7.

Black's Market Slates Gala Five Day Tenth Anniversary Fete

Black's Market in Orinda is celebrating its Tenth Anniversary with a five value-packed day celebration. Featured high on the list of festivities planned are free orchids today and tomorrow to the ladies. The sale started Wednesday.

Other giveaways to customers will be ice cream and salad with free Cheesefurters to be presented to locals by Tony and Vasco's Meat Department.

Keynoting the celebration will be the pledge of the entire Black's staff to continue the service which has been the policy of the store since the pioneer firm opened in the Dykes' Building a decade ago.

All departments, grocery, produce, TV Meats and T & D Liquors, will participate in the celebration. Don Tice is owner of the produce and grocery departments.

Black's grocery and produce departments are associated with King's Food Centers in Lafayette and Pleasant Hill.

Jim Toteson and Leighton DeMaeyer, both well known in Orinda since they opened their T & D Liquors in 1947, feature a select line of wines and liquors not only during the anniversary fete, but all year around.

Vasco Giannini and Tony Fereira, operators of T.V. Meats, stated they will continue offering special cuts of meats, their pledge is to offer the friendship and service which has always been their trademark.

The meat department, grocery and liquor departments were recently enlarged to give better service to customers. The entire store was recently remodeled.

SHOPPERS AND PARKERS everywhere in Orinda and the Parking Limit Signs still state "one Hour parking only". For the shopper who feels he will be longer than one hour in the downtown shopping area there are several parking lots. For the person who wishes to just "pop in" for a few minutes there is ample parking along the main street. By following this simple pattern, living and shopping in Orinda will be even more pleasant. —Sun photo by Harry Maroulas

Summer Rec. Leagues End

The summer baseball league is over for the third and fourth grades as well as the seventh and eighth grades.

The Corpsmen put down any threat of a playoff by deafeating their nearest competitor, The Casa Orinda handily. It proved to be too much Bob Welch with his throwing arm and long-hitting bat for the Casa Orindans to even stay in contention after the first inning.

In the third and fourth grade bracket, it was a virtual walk-away for west Transportation Co. who ended with a nine and one record.

Supervisors Let Bypass Contract

Frederickson and Watson Construction Company and Ransome Construction Company, both of Oakland, were awarded contract for the construction of the Orinda Village Bypass Tuesday in Martinez.

The board of supervisors opened the low bid of $745,556 for the 1.2 mile project.

The new road will extend from the Orinda traffic interchange, bypass to the west of San Pablo Dam Road and Orinda Village and connect with the Dam Road at Ardilla Road.

Two-thirds of the project will be on a new alignment and right-of-way starting at the interchange, crossing San Pablo Creek and skirting the hills immediately west of the village. The highway will then follow the existing road alignment from the El Toyonal intersection.

Upon completion of the project next summer the existing Orinda Highway connection to Highway 24 will be closed.

Only five intersections, at Santa Maria Way and Camino Sobrante extensions, El Toyonal Miner and Ardilla Roads, will be permitted on the Freeway type, controlled access project.

The contract calls for four eight-foot wide shoulders, traffic islands, storage lanes, maximum stopping and passing distances, long-radius curves, gentle grades and illuminating signalization of major intersections, Public Works Director Victor W. Sauer said.

The project will include 1.5 miles of fencing, 900 feet of reinforced concrete box culverts for two crossings of San Pablo Creek, 2300 feet of concrete lined creek channel and 4,700 feet of pipes from 6 to 84 inches in diameter for roadside drainage.

During construction traffic will be allowed to pass through the construction zone on the Orinda Highway with as little delay and inconvenience as possible, Sauer said.

Kill lawn moths

Just walk around your lawn spreading ORTHO Lawn-Garden Dieldrin Granules out of the shaker-top canister as directed on label. Then, when you water, the insecticides dieldrin and lindane dissolve slowly from the granules. This steady supply not only kills current lawn moths (sod webworm) but is also effective over a long period against new broods. Kills ants and earwigs, too!

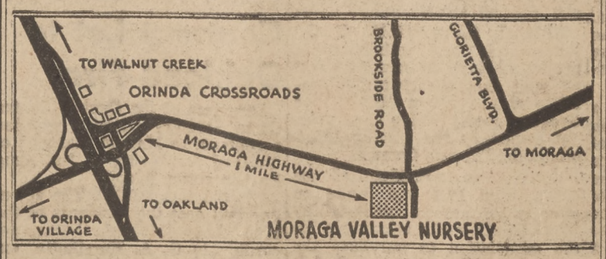

Granules dissolve slowly — releasing amounts of insecticides needed to stop lawn moth ravage.

On larger areas apply with fertilizer spreader. One pound treats up to 700 square feet!

SLOW DRIVING

On a warm summer day it's nice to drive along slowly on the highway and enjoy the scenery, but remember, driving too slowly is just as dangerous as speeding. Keep pace with traffic and give the other drivers a break. If you want to loaf, pick some scenic side-road that has little traffic.

Widow, Executors Battle Over Humphries Estate

A two-way battle over the settlement of the $500,000 plus estate of the late Andrew K. Humphries, 63, of Ygnacio Valley, is raging in Contra Costa Superior Court.

Fighting the battle are Humphries' 33-year-old widow, Rachel, and three executors of the estate, Richard K. Humphries, Edward H. Hellerand and A. S. Glikbarg.

Humphries, who died June 24, was president and chairman of the board of Pacific Coast Aggregates Company and president of the Pacific Intermountain Express Company and Sonora Products Company, a cattle business.

MRS. HUMPHRIES won a first round victory when she obtained special letter of administration to take care of the immediate needs of her husband's estate. But, against her opposition Judge Norman A. Gregg followed the terms of the will Humphries executed in 1948 and named Heller, Gikbarg and Richard Humphries as executors. Richard Humphries is the son of Humphries' first wife by a previous marriage.

Mrs. Humphries also won a $1,182 monthly living allowance despite complaint of the executors that it was too much. She had asked $2,500.

The executors claim that Mrs. Humphries is not entitled to take anything from the estate under terms of the 1948 will because she was not married to him then. They also claim she was never legally married to him because she received a final decree of divorce from Frank Lee Sesler only a few days before she married Humphries in New York.

MRS. HUMPHRIES claims that as Humphries' wife she is not bound by terms of the will and is entitled to all of the community property and one-half of his separate estate.

She lists as sole heirs to his estate as herself and Mrs. Louise B. Burns of Monterey, Humphries' daughter by a previous marriage. Humphries' will left a portion of his estate in trust for Richard Humphries, Heller and Glikbarg and Mrs. Burns.

Christian Science

Today's need of the spiritual sense of truth will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Christian Science churches in this area are located at 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda, and 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek. The Christian Science Society of Pleasant Hill meets at the Hillcrest Congregational Church on Gregory Lane.

The lesson-sermon on "Truth" will include the following from Psalms (145:18): "The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (272:3-5): "The spiritual sense of truth must be gained before truth can be understood. This sense is assimilated only as we are honest, unselfish, loving, and meek."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (98:1,3): "O sing unto the Lord a new song; for he hath done marvelous things: . . . He hath remembered his mercy and his truth toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God."

Realtors Form New Industrial Land Group

Industrial Brokers, Inc., an association of realtors specializing in Contra Costa County and Bay Area industrial properties has been formed with headquarters at 1822 Mt. Diablo Blvd., Walnut Creek, according to R. E. Wadsworth, president.

Purpose of the organization is to unite industrial realtors of the county and cooperate in the exchange of information on industrial listings, according to president Wadsworth.

"We expect to cooperate with all departments of government, chamber of commerce and all other agencies or individuals interested in industrial growth in our community," he continued.

He said that the purpose of the Development Association was to publicise the county's industrial possibilities while the Industrial Brokers, Inc., will hande sales of property.

Directors include J. H. Carter, King Parker Jr., Kenneth Richardson and Ted Schreiber, in addition to R. E. Wadsworth.

Polio Warning Told by Goettsch

"Every parent should make sure that his family's polio immunizations are completed now so that we can keep polio to a minimum and avoid epidemics" Dr. Elvira Goettsch, assistant health officer said today.

She pointed out that Contra Costa has had very few cases of polio this year but warned that poliomyelitis is a virus disease which strikes populations suddenly and without warning. Unlike hurricanes, predictions of the time and place of these epidemics is not possible. However, there seems to be no question that vaccination has reduced the number of paralytic cases which occur.

So far, we have limited information in regard to the time required to build up adequate protection in unvaccinated individuals when an epidemic strikes. Last year Chicago experienced a severe epidemic of poliomyelitis during which the health authorities tried to protect a large group of inadequately immunized school children by vaccination with Salk vaccine.

The results of this effort show that it is practically impossible to do a good job of protecting unvaccinated individuals after an epidemic starts. There were no paralytic cases among children who had completed the three injections of the vaccine but the attack rate was fairly high among children who received only one or two injections during the epidemic.

Salk vaccine is available from your physician and Health Department clinics are available for persons who find it difficult to avail themselves of a private physician's services.

Local clinics and their hours are as follows:

CONCORD—First Christian Church, 3039 Willow Pass Road—1st Tuesday of each month, 2-5 p.m., polio only; 3rd Tuesday of each month, 2-5 p.m., mixed.

PLEASANT HILL—Community Baptist Church, 924 Pleasant Hill Road — 2nd Tuesday of each month, 2-5 p.m., mixed; 3rd Friday of each month, 2-5 p.m., polio only.

WALNUT CREEK—Health Department Office, Highland Building, 2365 Mt. Diablo Boulevard—4th Wednesday of each month, 2-5 p.m., mixed.

Civic Clubs, Groups To Get Special Tour at New Kahns

Opportunities are now being made available to clubs, women's groups, civic and fraternal organizations, service clubs and children's groups to tour the new Kahn store in Concord during the week of Saturday, August 3 through Saturday, August 10.

This has been designed "Open House Week" by Tom B. Johnson, Manager of Kahn's Concord. It is planned as an opportunity to look behind the scenes in Concord's largest store, and inspect such usually close-to-the-public facilities as the window and interior display departments, sign shop, receiving dock, marking and shipping rooms, heating and air-conditioning plants, sound system, offices, facilities for employees, gift wrapping center beauty salon, and even the special toddler-size bathroom facilities in the Baby Shop.

Business executives will find much of interest in the unusually effective lighting, and the arrangement of departments and offices. Women will undoubtedly be able to adapt some of the many color and decorating ideas to their own uses.

Children will quite possibly find the escalators of major interest, although the new book and toy sections, the Girl Scout headquarters and many other features have been planned for them, Johnson added.

Over 50 Colors Used in Store To Open 'Soon'

More than fifty decorator colors, shades and tints of paint, with harmonizing fabrics, were used in the interior decor of the new Kahn's store in Concord Shopping Center, opening soon, according to Tom B. Johnson, Manager.

This new world of color, chosen by a panel of artists, decorators and store planners, sets the theme of Casual California living, highlighting the hospitality which has been the proud tradition of Contra Costa County from early Spanish days to the present time.

Color is handled to suggest progression from one related type of merchandise to another, and to suggest the types of items on display in each department. For instance, silverware is shown appropriately against royal purple tones; the Baby Shop's keynote color is a happy, sparkling yellow; the men's and boys' corner is suitably masculine in its use of clear, bright color with cool greens.

While not obtrusive, color forms a pleasant background for both shoppers and merchandise, reflecting the welcoming warmth of a large, friendly family store and suggesting the vibrant, sunshine-drenched tones of the out-of-doors: the pumpkin and melon, berry and grape, the sky blues, golds and greens of the California scene.

Planned by the same group of color experts who made a noteworthy success of the Young Family Shop in Kahn's Oakland store, the modern Concord establishment is expected to be a model of its kind, Tom Johnson said.

DAV to Hold Sunday Meet

The 14th District, Disabled American Veterans, composed of Contra Costa and Alameda County DAV chapters and auxiliaries will hold a quarterly meeting in San Leandro at the Veterans Memorial Building on Sunday.

Luncheon will be served at 11:30, followed by the business meetings at 1 p.m.

Adam Gierak of Concord, 14th district commander, will conduct the chapter meeting. Goldie Lang of Hayward, auxiliary commander, will have charge of the auxiliary units.

Since this is the first district meeting after the annual DAV convention, held recently in San Jose,reports will be submitted to the members by the convention delegates.

Fishing, Park Study Bill Vetos Hit By Masterson

Governor Goodwin Knight was strongly criticized this week by Assemblyman S. C. Masterson for vetoing measures allowing fishing in terminal reservoirs and providing a state park study for the San Pablo Reservoir watershed area.

The Richmond Democrat admitted that he "expected" a veto of Assembly Bill 34, which would have opened reservoirs such as San Pablo Dam and Chabot Reservoir for public recreational purposes.

BUT HE SAID that the veto of AB 1755 came as a surprise to him. AB 1755 would have provided a $2500 appropriation for an investigation of a state park in the San Pablo watershed area.

The bill was vetoed by the governor on July 17, the final day for approval or rejection of measures passed by the recent session of the legislature.

SEVERAL OTHER PARK appropriations and study measures for northern California ranging from an appropriation of $1314 to a $500,000 reservoir appropriation in Napa and Solano counties were turned down simultaneously by Knight.

The governor approved Utility District's mountain Pardee Reservoir.

This measure, Senate Bill 581 authored by Senator Arthur Breed (R---Piedmont), will enable EBMUD to "adequately safeguard the water supply of East Bay consumers," a district release said this week.

ALSO SIGNED INTO law was SB 119 by Senator Stephen Teale (D-West Point.).

The Teale bill lacks "important provisions contained in SB 581," but is also "compatible with the EBMUD policy of giving domestic drinking water purity priority over recreational use if the latter interferes with the quality of the water," according to EBMUD general manager John McFarland. The control of local terminal reservoirs, McFarland said, "remains with the elected officials of the public water supply who have the responsibility of maintaining pure and palitable drinking water for their constituents."

MASTERSON SAID that the mountain-reservoir fishing bill was supported by EBMUD in hopes of "getting the mountain legislators to go along" with the policy of preventing fishing in the terminal water supply.

"This hope proved unfounded," the assemblyman said, "but in making this admission, EBMUD is admitting that there is no basic threat to water impurity in recreational fishing."

AB 34 is the same as a similar bill passed by the legislature in 1955 and pocket vetoed by Knight.

"BUT THERE WILL be other sessions of the legislature in which we will have the opportunity to pass the bill again," Masterson stated, "and perhaps we will have another governor then, too."

The assemblyman termed the veto of the park-study measure "incredible."

"Evidently," he said, "they are afraid of what a study report will disclose."

Speeding of Lower Down Payments Asked

John Osmundson, president of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County, said recently that the Federal Housing agencies should act quickly to put into effect the lower FHA down payments provided in the new housing legislation.

"President Eisenhower's signature on the Housing Act of 1957 marked a significant forward step towards insuring the continuing growth of home ownership in the United States," Osmundson said.

"However, the Federal housing agencies must now act to put these new lower FHA down payment schedules into effect so that the mass of lower and middle-income families may benefit by the new terms.

"These are the families who are able to pay the monthly cost of the new homes they want, but have been unable to purchase homes because of the high down payments required under the old law."

Bird, Firemen, Unknown Stranger Save PH Home

"I've always hated that bird—he's so mean—but he has a home now for life."

So says a grateful Mrs. Billie Little of 303 North Pleasant Hill Road, Pleasant Hill. She awakened from her fire-threatened home early Monday morning by the chirping of her little green parakeet.

THE FIRE, which destroyed the roof and garage of the Little residence, was extinguished "in a matter of minutes" by the Central District firemen with help from an unidentified stranger.

But it's the little, green parakeet who is the real hero of the affair to Mrs. Little.

Mrs. Little, whose husband is stationed with the U.S. Navy at San Diego, was awakened at 4 a.m. Monday by the parakeet's chirping.

"I THOUGHT that a cat who was in the neighborhood had entered the house intent on an early breakfast," she said. "When I looked at the bird he was chirping like crazy and I saw a light in the garage."

When Mrs. Little went to extinguish the light, she discovered the fire, which had already destroyed a portion of the garage and was menacing the family automobile.

"MY 14 - YEAR - OLD boy Joe helped me get my other four children outside the house. Then we removed the car from the garage"

It was while Joe was watering down the garage and before the fire trucks arrived, that the unidentified stranger entered.

Stopping his car on the highway, he rushed up to the house and assisted Joe in watering down the flames.

THEN, BEFORE Mrs. Little could learn his name or thank him ,he went back to the car and drove away.

"I hope he's a subscriber to The Sun and sees the story in your papare," Mrs. Little said, "I would sure like to thank him."

Firemen extinguished the blaze before any damage was done inside the house, but the roof and garage were completely gutted.

Insurance will cover the damage, the woman said.

Two Escape Death In Airplane Crash

Pilot William O'Hara of Concord and his passenger Randall (Chubby) Humble of Clayton narrowly escaped death Saturday when their single-engined Champion Traveller airplane crashed at Buchanan Field.

The crash brought an unhappy climax to an evening barbecue sponsored by the Diablo Airmen's Association.

Both O'Hara and Humble, owner of Humble's Pioneer Inn in Clayton, were reported in good condition this week at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Walnut Creek. O'Hara sustained a fractured right ankle while Humble suffered fractures of both wrists.

The plane's engine apparently stalled as it was pulling out of a turn at an altitude of 200 feet. It crashed on the southeast end of the airport at the edge of the landing strip, pinning both men inside.

The crash did not endanger the crowd of 300 that was attending the barbecue.

NEARLY 3000 OTHER persons attending midget races at the Contra Costa Speedway also witnessed the crash.

O'Hara, a pilot for the California Eastern Aviation Corporation, had borrowed the plane for the demonstration from Pacific States Aviation Company.

Springbrook Pool Construction Set

Construction will begin Thursday on the Springbrook Community Swimming Pool adjacent to Acalanes High School, according to Robert E. Stevens, association president.

Don Doughty, owner of Orinda Pools, is the contractor for the 70-foot-long pool. The pool, as designed by Doughty, will be 40 feet at the shallow end and 25 feet wide at the deep end.

The association has a membership goal of 200. Members will be accepted within a radius of the pool for three miles. Cost is $200 per family and $3 a month dues. Prospective members may contact Stevens.

Realtors Organize Group

A committee on taxation has been organized by the Contra Costa Real Estate Board to investigate and compare the tax structure of this county with that of other counties, according to J. H. Carter, president of the real estate group.

Carter stated that, "property values in Contra Costa County are being depressed by the weight of the tax burden.

"It is the intention of the board that this committee will cooperate with the Contra Costa Taxpayers Association and the legislative committee of the California Real Estate Association," he continued.

Sunny Read, Danville realtor, will head the committee which will also include Frank Curtis, Bill Martin, Ted Counter, Dick Betzenderfer, Louis La Brie, Larry Smith, Frank Celle, Mario Snedeker, M. H. Binker, George Pittman, Bill Simpson, Nan Stewart and Tom Duffy.

Take Claremont Ave. from Berk. turning left at the first crossroads and right at the Army Base. Here you'll do well to shift into low and brace yourself for a breathtaking dramatic show of California countryside in all its glory as you come down over the hills past Grizzly Stables. Surprising how many HAVEN'T enjoyed that view in Vistavision!

MANHATTAN SERENADE . . . for the Chandler Barkelews of Mariposa Lane who leave us Aug. 1 for a four-mos. residence on a Shell transfer. Chandler, Virginio and the three children to vacation first in Yellowstone, Minnesota, (Virginia's home), Detroit and Niagara Falls (Second Honeymoon?) before arrival in New York City where Chandler will check in daily at Rockefeller Center while Virginia and the youngsters will find it hard to settle down w/all the sightseeing to be done.

Out of the mouths of babes

We remember our youngest's classic comment, when at age 3 he surveyed FIFTH AVE. for the first time—"But Mommy", said our little man w/some agitation in his voice, "WHERE are the REAL skyscrapers?" . . . We were sure the Empire State Bldg. shuddered over THAT one!

ADD CLASSIC COMMENTS, this one coming from Barbara Williams little red-headed lass Laurie who, getting her head WET & UNDER for the first time at Orinda Park Pool recently, ran to her mother w/the announcement- "MY FACE FELL IN THE WATER MOMMY".

Poolside Glances . . . Young attractive lady causing quivers amon those sitting nearby her at the pool as she sat reading and sunni and salting several lemons from which she sucked and sipped the juice without so much as a slight pucker, but, OH! the people around her. SUCH GRIMACING!

One Meadow Pool mother, (anticipating busier days in the fall?) has sat penning addresses to dozens of birth announcement envelopes while watching her children at the pool. THIS lady w/efficient manner and foresight, expecting her fourth in December.

VACATION REPORTS: Clifford Aberham, young son of the Max Aberhams, won 1st Prize on Talent Nite aboard the Matsonia w/the piano playing of "Around The World in 80 Days". His prize, a fountain pen bearing a miniature of the new liner.

The Bill Thurstons saw 53 bear in 3 days in the Grand Teton-Yellowstone region. . . . Tom and Jean Mann among those taking Pack Trips this summer. . . . The Bob Boyles and their brood kept a sailing date w/the Bill Witters of Belvedere last Sunday, in spite of the cold. . . . Millie Winfree and her sons sifting sand at Seabright.

Sheriff has something to swagger about ! !

If Bruce Winkworth portrays the Sheriff in the Dramateurs' "BUS STOP" w/more than the usual swagger, you'll know it's because his fourth child and third Sarah Bernhardt named KIM just curtseyed on stage July 5.

AND SPEAKING OF SWAGGERING—Just look at the Marvin Bakers! Their FIRST child, daughter Janice, can't get her new parents to get a good night's sleep since her arrival July 8 at Kaiser Permanente.

The Kerry Kereseys of Orchard Rd. are expecting their fourth! Sev and Frank Schnugg aren't being the least bit blase about it, but wouldn't YOU be? If YOU were soon to add a NINTH name to your moppet-muster?

Diane Stoy of Vallecito Lane, whose "Bonnie Sue" is a brand new 4 mos. old, showered Marge Rieger at an evening "surprise" recently. And Marge, w/her husband Hugh, shared host duties, too, over the "Fourth" w/Elizabeth and Bob Mark w/a celebrative send-off for Les and Poppy Rowe who are Britain-bound July 26 . . . Here, for the Farewell "fireworks" in the garden of the Mark home were Chuck and Leona Wilson, Bill and Yena Therkildsen, Chuck and Yolande Burkette (the Rowe's dghtr. and son-in-law) as well as Dan and Bev Bancroft, the Paul Byerlys, Jim Hupps and Jean and Ben Bennetson.

Emma Usinger, currently at Tahoe w/her children while Russ is traveling in the East, played shower-hostess at an early July luncheon honoring Mary Dorr.

PACK 212 FISHERMEN, your attn. please! Call CL 4-4650 if you plan to attend the Yerba Buena Island fishing trip on Saturday, July 27 . . . Bring your own lunch, baseball and fishing equip. (bait will be furnished) and wear your old clothes.

Tice Valley Schaal Site Is Held Over

A proposed Acalanes Union High School District site in Tice Valley was held over by a Tuesday meeting of the County Planning Commission.

Approval of the site was at least temporarily withheld on the grounds that the site is 300 feet away from the roadway. An applicant could move to rezone the area between the school and the road for business or commercial use at a later date, the commission said.

THE PROPOSED SITE will be heard by the commission again on August 6 following a discussion by district authorities at the next school board meeting.

Also held over by the commission was a request for rezoning to transition residential agricultural of 22.5 Happy Valley acres, a land-use permit for a duplex proposed by Alfred and Aileen Merker and approval of a tentative subdivision map for a south Orinda subdivision.

The rezoning request, by C. L. Spear, was held over pending an appearance by the applicant.

THE MERKER DUPLEX, referred by the Board of Supervisors to the commission subsequent to an appeal by the owners, was held over to September 17 at the request of Merker's attorney, Edmond Barnett.

And the subdivision map — for 120.4 acres bounded by Moraga Highway and Ivy Drive — was held over until the commission completes revision of the present half-acre zoning ordinance.

Lynn Hail Enrolls At U. of C., Davis

Lynn Hail of Lafayette has been admitted to the University of California, Davis, for the coming fall semester, Registrar Howard B. Shontz reports.

Skyway Repairs Needed; Seepage Held to Blame

The public Works Department will, in the near future, start corrective work on the pavement failures near the top section of the Cummings Skyway.

These pavement failures were caused by new subsurface drainage springs which were not apparent at the time of the construction of the road and for several months afterward. The most probable cause of these springs is the opening of subterranean cracks by the last heavy series of earthquakes a few months ago.

The water causing the trouble rises practically vertically in very localized spots and saturates the subgrade in the vicinity. Any water over this amount runs down the subgrade and causes resilience and subsidence.

This makes the problem of drainage very complicated because of the localization of the rising water. Holes a few inches apart will be wet and dry respectively. Therefore, an extensive blanketing of these areas will be required, along with an adequate subsurface drainage system.

The schedule for the completion of the Skyway is for work to commence in July, 1958, and be finished as soon as possible thereafter in order that it will be coordinated with the State's work on the Freeway, U.S. 40.

The State is providing an interchange on the Freeway and extending ramps out to meet future County work. When the County starts this work the existing section of the Crockett Freeway, at the summit, will get its "second story" of pavement, according to the schedule worked out at the start of planning the project.

Bullet Taken From Boy's Leg

Miller to Talk On TV Station Friday Night

Contra Costa County's State Senator George Miller Jr., will appear this Friday in a televised panel discussion on the vital problem of water development in Californa.

He and other members of the State Legislature will discuss how the deadlock between conflicting geographical interests can be broken to permit orderly action on water projects that have been in the planning stage for some years and are now ready for actual construction.

Other participants on Channel 13 panel will include State Senators Hugh P. Donnelly of Stanislaus County and Alan Short of San Joaquin County, and Assemblyman William Biddick Jr., also of San Joaquin County. Time will be 10 p.m.

ORINDA SUN

We Have a 'Weak Link' Let's Correct it Now

Where do we go from here?

And in this case, the "go" is literal, because it refers to the "bottleneck" created by the opening of the Lafayette Bypass.

It can only be said that the Lafayette Bypass created the bottleneck by speeding up the flow of traffic in Lafayette, and dramatizing the need for adequate highways over the rest of the route traveled each day by thousands of commuters and residents.

True, the situation is much better than it was six months ago. Now the bumper-to-bumper traffic is centralized between Orinda and Lafayette. This is the only major section of the Diablo freeway that has not been budgeted or is not under construction.

IT IS OBVIOUS that a highway system is only as strong as its weakest link . . . . and it is equally obvious that the weak link in the Diablo freeway is between Lafayette and Orinda.

It is extremely difficult for automobiles to enter the traffic flow on Mt. Diablo Boulevard from such main feeder roads as Charles Hill Road, either during the morning or evening commute hours.

Plans show that we will have an interchange there when the freeway is completed, but when is the target date for this . . . . 1960!

In the meantime, things will just get worse as the congestion increases and the county continues to grow.

THE STATE has done a wonderful job in planning and construction of our major freeways. They have certainly tried to keep inconvenience at a minimum and interrupt traffic flow as little as possible.

And they can only build freeways as fast as the money is allocated by the State.

But there are other possible solutions . . . . temporary though they may be.

Recently the State constructed a third lane for westbound traffic between Orinda and the Broadway Tunnel. This served the purpose of keeping traffic from piling up behind slow trucks, or stalled automobiles, and consequently helping it to flow smoothly all along the freeway route.

Why could not a similar lane be constructed from the end of the Lafayette Bypass to the Orinda Crossroads. If this were done now it would certainly improve the situation and make things safer until the ultimate freeway could be constructed.

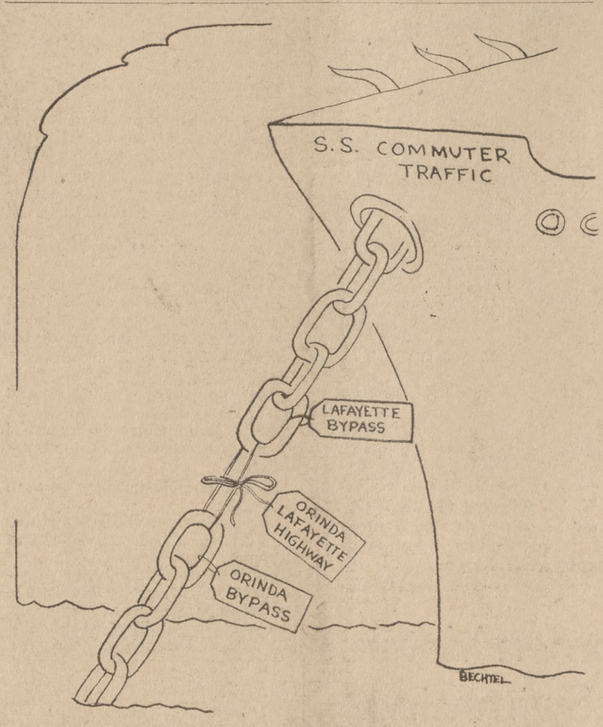

The plans and right-of-way money for the completion of the "missing link" are available, but construction funds have not been allocated as yet.

CERTAINLY CENTRAL Contra Costa County has had its share of freeway construction money allocated in the past two years . . . and it will be two and a half years before the Walnut Creek Bypass is completed.

We cannot complain about the treatment we have been getting from the State in this respect, but can point out the urgency of completing the job.

The biggest jobs have been completed . . . or are under construction. Let's get on with the rest of it, because it has to be done sooner or later . . .

And a freeway is only as strong as its weakest link!

What ever happened to the old fashioned hammock?

I'll bet that question has been bothering you all day and you were just waiting for somebody to answer for you. Come on now, confess. Admit it. It's really been preying on your mind and you can't wait for the solution.

All right, I'll tell you. The hammock has gone underground!

Well not exactly underground, but a lot closer to the ground, and somebody has starched it or something since you last saw it. . . . that's why you don't recognize it.

You are really surrounded by hammocks, but you just don't realize it.

WE LIVE IN a pretty nice area, and there's a lot of "outdoor living" going on all the time. In fact, it's so outdoor, that it's frequently difficult to tell where the "inside" stops and the "outside" begins in our modern homes.

But we digress. Next time you visit a friend's patio, take a look at the long, shiny, aluminum thing the host is reclining on while glugging down a soporific in the beautiful outdoors.

That's right . . . it's a HAMMOCK.

Now here's what happened. Hammocks . . . the old fashioned kind . . . used to require trees . . . you know, one at each end to hold the strings up. Well, trees drop leaves, so most trees are carefully kept away from the lawns and patios, and a "patio cover" is substituted.

Result. No trunks to tie strings to, so no hammocks.

BUT IT IS STILL necessary to recline and relax, so some bright lad moved the bedroom furniture onto the patio (for outdoor living, of course) and the first piece he moved out was the old beat-up French chaise-lounge.

That is just a hammock in disguise! Somebody in France, where they do all things better, took the old hammock, put wheels under it, added an arm rest, and viola!

Bet you didn't recognize it, though. You've got to be pretty discerning . . . got to get up pretty early in the morning to recognize these shoddy tricks they're playing.

But that isn't all. Somebody stooped even lower. Next time you gather around the pool, take a look at that long green pad lying on the hard concrete.

IT'S A HAMMOCK, without the strings attached, and with the wheels and arms removed. Leave it to the Americans to simplify what the French have been building up for centuries.

As for me, I'm going way out in the woods, find two trees, put up and old hammock (I've got one) and go to sleep.

Wake me up for dinner.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

I wish to thank Grace J. Campbell for her graciousness, and to commend her for her recommendations.

I challenge Mrs. Jeffrey to quote anything which I have written in the past weeks that tends to show that I have anything but the highest regard for the intelligence of this community.

MRS. JEFFREY underestimates the chemical knowledge of a potential enemy who, if faced with the objective of tampering with a public water supply in order to kill off a whole population, would not use a choride or fluoride with the physical impossibility of pouring four tons of it per million gallons.

Common chemical knowledge is aware thta one ounce of botulinus toxin in a reservoir of water would have much greater effect!

Relative to the statement from the files of the Wisconsin group against fluoridation, it is doubtful whether a list could be compiled to "those dental and medical colleges and state health departments" who do not foster and promote the programs of the U.S. Public Health Service.

Also, from the files of the American Dental Association, fluoride compounds used for water fluoridation are not a by-product of aluminum plants. The Aluminum Company of America does produce sodium fluoride, but in a special plant, in the same manner as it is produced by many other companies not in the aluminum industry.

Nothing in the anti-fluoridation argument "fits together like a glove." The vast majority of those who favor the fluoridation of public water supplies are public spirited individuals supporting an undeniably advantageous public health measure. Those are the people who stand for fluoridation!

THE INDIVIDUALS who will profit monetarily in any way from this measure will be the more than a dozen companies in the U.S. who produce sodium fluoride.

Are we to decry the profit motive, which is the basic economic foundation of representative forms of government throughout the world? The basic question should be, "Is the fluoridation program expensive?" The answer being the oft repeated statement of truth that fluoridation is both safe and inexpensive.

In 1952, 711 communities accepted fluoridation. In 1956, 1437 communities!

Divide California By Two Nets Four Parts of Texas

By PAT PENDING

Remember the water battle between the Nawth and the South awhile back? There was a threat by some of the belligerents to divide California into two parts. My daughter got real worried:

"Daddy," she said, "I hope that they don't divide California because the way it is now, it looks so nice on the map."

* * * * * *

By the way, I understand that Texas can legally divide into four states. I certainly hope that this never happens. Imagine having to listen to Texas emigrants with four states to brag about!

* * * * * *

Deer season, Suh, will soon open. This means that .30 calibre slugs will, once again, be screaming through the underbrush headed in the general direction of anything that moves.

The "beer" hunters will be out, as usual, in phalanxes. I'd like to suggest to the Department of Fish and Game that red caps and shirts be attached to all elegible bucks. I am sure that this would increase the kill this year.

And, to protect the hunters, each should be required to wear at least a three-point set of antlers on his noggin.

* * * * * *

I hunted last year in Modoc County. I followed a trail with spoor so large that I couldn't determine whether it had been made by a deer or an elk. The tracks led to a shallow stream and across it on a sand bar. Then I knew it wasn't an elk I followed. I've been to conventions and I've never seen an elk pass a bar yet.

* * * * * *

Failing to sight a buck, I left my rifle in camp and took my camera into the woods in hopes of filming some wild life. I rounded a cliff and was suddenly face-to-face with a huge bear. It really gave me a grizzly feeling and I knew there was trouble brewin'! Imagine my surprise when the animal whipped out a camera and snapped my picture! I found out later it was a Kodak bear.

* * * * * *

And, I sure wish Goodie Knight was my boss. Then even my raises would get raises! I should have studied law and been a D.A.!

* * * * * *

Just got my Cal Water bill again and, from the size of it, you'd think I raised camels for a hobby. I'm just going to have to part with my pet goldfish—that's for sure!

DENTAL REPORT

Dear Editor:

The Journal of the American Dental Association reports that a reduction of about 50 per cent in dental caries in the teeth of school children was indicated in the completion of a ten year study of fluoridation in Sheboygan, Wis.

An additional fact was that the children showed dramatic improvement also.

The U. S. Public Health Service reports that 1506 communities with a population of over 31 million drink fluoridated water.

Newsweek of March 18, reports opposition to fluoridation by a few doctors, members of religious groups and "natural" diet devotees.

It is a minority of opposition, some in high public office, who ignore conclusive scientific data and deprive the children of our community from the excellent benefits of an adequate fluoridation program.

The session, which includes two five-week terms, annually attracts students and teachers from every state in the nation. The university is serving more than 6500 persons during the summer.

Letters to The Editor

When Mrs. John Jeffrey started writing letters in opposition to fluoridation I was in hopes that some good discussion would be forthcoming. It has become increasingly apparent that she has little constructive to offer.

Some of her expressions on "rat poison" and the like remind me of the story I first heard in grammar school—when we used to say something like this:

Q. Did you hear about the man who was killed by coffee?

A. No.

A. A ton of it fell on him.

There is virtually nothing that is not bad for an individual—if taken in excess. Chocolate and sweets are, in excess, detrimental to health—but chocolate in a concentrated form has been part of many emergency food rations for many years. Salt in moderation seems conducive to good health—and salt in excess appears to be injurious to health. Sun in moderation appears healthful — and sun in excess can kill.

Further, Mrs. Jeffry appears opposed to anything that is sold—since obviously she implies that the person selling it does so only with the hopes of doing great injury to the purchaser or user.

But Mrs. Jeffrey asked a question that I feel I must answer. She asked: "Who is behind fluoridation and who stands to profit?"

Mrs. Jeffrey, I am behind fluoridation—along with many others like me. I believe that I can honestly state that I owe allegience to no company—and am not employed by any single company. I am retained on a counselling basis by about 15 business firms all in different fields and no firm represents over 20 per cent of my income.

And to answer the other half of her question—who stands to profit?—I would answer my son Christopher (age 3) and daughter (age 1) if Mrs. Jeffrey would agree that better teeth can be considered a profit.

I sincerely hope that we will hear less of Mrs. Jeffrey until such time as she can write without having to cast reflection on a large number of people within this community—a reflection that she can not prove.

ROBERT KAHN

VARIED ARGUMENTS

Dear Editor:

Having read with interest the varied arguments for and against fluoridation, I should like to point out that even if it were true that certain medical and dental schools received grants from fluoridation interests, as Mrs. Jeffery charges, the doctors and dentists in practice must build up a reputation for acting in the best interests of patients for economic reasons, if for no other!

If, therefore, your dentist recommends fluoridation how can you accuse him of having done so for any reason other than that he thinks it is the best way to prevent dental ills?

If "it all fits together like a glove," as Mrs. Jeffery says, the dentist would be with her in opposing fluoridation because the more cavities he has to fill, the more bills he can send out. Isn't that true?

Such a reference book for mothers as the "Mother's Encyclopedia" compiled and edited by the editors of "Parents Magazine" suggests that "the dentist may prevent some decay by the application of sodium fluoride to the child's teeth . . . . children so treated may be expected to develop on the average of 40 percent fewer cavities than those not treated."

To have the courage of one's opinion is fine but, as Oliver Goldsmith said of William Burke, "His conduct still right with his argument wrong."

(MRS.) JACQUELINE STONE

Dear Editor:

Continue the good work of publishing both sides of the fluoridation issue. The wrong-thinking of the anti-fluoridationists will be more quickly revealed.

As more and more of the public are exposed to high school chemistry, every one will understand that there is no difference between naturally occurring sodium fluoride and the manufactured product.

They will see that a saboteur is not going to try to dump tons and tons of a chemical into drinking water when a few ounces of bacteria could do the job.

They will recognize that, like a strong solution of table salt, sodium fluoride in large concentrations is easily tasted and, that feeder systems used for water supplies cannot introduce harmful quantities.

Nearly every element or chemical we consume is a deadly poison if taken in excessive amounts. The manufacturers of chlorine, table salt, vitamins, penicillin, food preservatives, are really not making these products in order to poison the public for a profit.

What is our democratic way of life? That a minority viewpoint should control community needs? If 10 per cent of the people want to live by candlelight, because they think magnetic waves are dangerous, do the other 90 per cent buy their own generating set?

Very truly yours,
RICHARD J. MITCHELL.

Atten. District Attorney: Here're Some Questions!

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

The 1956-'57 County Grand Jury recently recommended, "That the district attorney and his deputies be required to cease private practice and to devote full-time to their county duties . . ."

With this, The Sun heartily agrees. In fact, you will recall that we have been saying the same thing for years and years. But today's column is not going to be devoted to—"I told you so . . ."

I am, however, extremely pleased that an official and important group of prominent citizens has publicly recognized that there is a major problem in the office of our county district attorney. Other groups (attorneys, public officials, judges, Governor Knight) have realized this for a long time.

Research is needed . . .

As a newspaper we have known and have written about the D.A. and his staff for years—but more or less in general terms. Unfortunately, we do not have a large enough staff to do a comprehensive, investigative study to document this problem. This is possible only by large metropolitan papers—and only the better ones do it.

It is also unfortunate that the hands of the grand jury are also tied. The jury is not given funds to hire an investigator, although past juries have asked for help. And no investigators are furnished by other county offices. Further, a grand jury investigating the D.A. is in a peculiar position; the district attorney sits with them and serves the jury as its counsel.

Nevertheless, the law enforcement committee of the past grand jury courageously looked into the mess and issued some statements that have never been said before. I know that they desired documented evidence. If they had had an investigator, they would have accomplished even more. Their statements, issued in the final report of the 1956-57 grand jury, clearly describe the situation.

Here is interesting reading:

"In connection with its study of the district attorney's office, the committee heard expressions of concern from a great many quarters with respect to the policy of the district attorney of maintaining a private law practice and of permitting his deputies to have private law practices. A variety of criticisms of this practice were voiced, including the following:

"1. Possibility of questionable legal solicitation: Citizens who seek the district attorney's assistance may wind up as clients of a deputy. When a case does not come within the county's jurisdiction, it is possible for the deputy to solicit the case for his private practice.

"2. Possible conflicts of interest: In their private practices, the district attorney and his deputies become associated with many people. Some of these may violate the law. When this occurs, there may be a tendency to minimize the charges; perhaps accepting a plea to a lesser offense. In civil cases involving the county and a former client, there may be some tendency to be sympathetic.

"Even the most scrupulously honest individual finds it difficult to be completely objective in such situations. Assignment of a different deputy to handle such cases is not a satisfactory solution to the problem, because frequently the county would lose the services of the man best qualified by training and experience to handle the case. The solution of our Federal Government to this problem has been to prohibit the employee associations which might lead to conflict of interest."

Then, the grand jury recommended the D.A. and his staff should be required to give up this lucrative private practice and devote full-time to county duties; "with this change in policy, increasing salaries should be appropriate." This ends the statement.

Let's ask some questions

Please note that the grand jury was polite and diplomatic in making these charges. They used the words "it is possible" or "may." But they tell the story very well. I find these questions implied in the jury report:

How much time does the district attorney and his deputies spend on private law practice while on the county's payroll?

Why don't the district attorney and his deputies have their own private office to conduct their private law practice?

Do they pay the county rent for use of county offices?

Why don't the district attorney and his deputies have their own telephones, secretaries, law libraries, etc., for their private practice?

When the D.A. and his deputies make phone calls over the county phones on own private business, do they pay for them?

Do they reimburse the county for all private work done by county secretaries?

Do the D.A. and his deputies pay close attention to county law business—or is law enforcement sacrificed because of their own private law practice?

And more questions . . .

Why are so many charges against accused people reduced to lesser offenses? (For example, from drunk driving to reckless driving; from a morals offense to disturbing the peace.)

How often do citizens, who are seeking advice from the D.A., wind up as private clients? (I have heard of two cases where women went to the D.A.'s office to sign criminal complaints against their husbands for non-support. The deputy district attorneys replied that they would not get fast action in this manner. (Untrue—the husbands could be tossed in jail.) But, continued the deputy, the best approach is to secure a divorce. The deputy then became a private attorney—and explained the cost and procedure.

One final question: What links are there between the D.A.'s office and at least one major law firm in the county?

Let's get the answers

Wouldn't the answers to these questions be interesting?

I have sent this column to District Attorney Francis Collins for his answer. The Sun will print his answer in full, devoting as much space as he wishes. Mr. Collins, we await your reply.

Before I am accused of suppressing news, let me print another paragraph in the grand jury report:

"These recommendations regarding the district attorney's office are not intended as a criticism of District Attorney Francis Collins and his staff, who, we feel, are ding as sincere, conscientious and effective job as is possible under existing conditions."

This sweet, little statement is most amusing. The law enforcement committee devotes much of its report to what it obviously considers a real problem. And then Mr. Collins and staff are given a pat on the back! Obviously this must have been done as a compromise or to humor someone on the committee.

On The Lighter Side

by INA BLIESNER
YE 4-3818

Had a wonderful week—hope you did. Spent a lot of time poolside—one day at Castlewood, and one at Orinda, where lunching with old friends, Dorothy Lundblad, Edith Scatena, Bobbye McGuire and Bea Commerford was a real treat.

The Comerfords (as usual) have been entertaining out of town guests; Doris and Eldon Edickson and their two children came down from their Seattle home for two weeks of rest and relaxation. They managed to take the children on a "tourist" day in San Francisco and Oakland.

YOU KNOW! China Town, Fisherman's Wharf, the Beach, Fairyland etc., Let's face it—do any of us really get tired of that circuit? The Bill Scatenas—who have THAT home in Sleepy Hollow—and their son, Rex, are away this week. They planned to stay at several places in the Mother Lode country and at Tahoe. Also planned? to catch their limit of fish.

A relaxing summer idyl . . .

This morning when I dropped my youngest son, Ed, off at the Lundblads for a few days (yes, they are brave!) Dorothy was busily unpacking after having spent an enchanting weekend with the Bill Brailsford's at their cabin at "Summer Home Park," Russian River. They were so enthusiastic about the place, in fact, that they are trying to rent a home for themselves for next summer. There was never a dull moment for any one at any time.

Sons, Kurt and Mark can hardly wait to get back. And, speaking of the younger set, and getting back to the Comerfords—daughter, Jill, celebrated her 10th birthday by having eight very cute young ladies to lunch at the Orinda Country Club. Of course, swimming was in order for the afternoon.

THOSE HUMMINGBIRDS have more fun! Everyone enjoyed the Unit party at the Bill Evans the other night so much that they are already planning a duplicate party for later on in the summer. It was such lovely weather, that after a delicious dinner, most everyone went back into the pool for more swimming. Spectators tossed coins into the pool, which were retreived and added to the other funds collected during the evening for the benefit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

A "song fest" was enjoyed during the cake and coffee hour—with Eric and Collett Barry presiding at the piano. Chairman of the event was the "doll," Jane Connolly, who incidently, took her son, Mike, out for his first game of golf the other day—and he loved it!

Virginia and Bob Franklin have been enjoying a reunion with her brother, Ernest Colosimo, and his wife. They came down from Tacoma, Washington for a visit. They were entertained one evening with a swim-barbecue party (in Contra Costa County—what else?). Thelma Sweet (and she is!) was lunching with Agnes Oliphant at the Club the other day too.

A nice kind of 'ball' to have!

She and Aub had recently returned from a trip to Sun Valley Idaho where they attended a convention. They returned home in a leisurely fashion and felt really rested, which is a "switch" if I ever heard of one. Their handsome and popular son, Jim, is spending the summer in the Islands, where he has many friends, and is having a "BALL". (well—natch!) Jim will be entering U.S.C. in the fall.

Pretty Janis Romak just came into the Center to deliver some "Flicker" data with her little son, Mark—so friendly and "smiley". Janis and Earle entertained a large family group recently. You guessed it. They barbecued and swam.

The Carson Magills, who now live in Piedmont, but for many years occupied a home in Sun Valley, were out for dinner the other night. Yes, we did barbecue. No, we didn't swim. Reason? No pool. Mostly we talked and caught upon our "doings" during the five or six weeks during which we hadn't been together.

"Beege" and Carson and sons, Mike and Jim, had just returned from a wonderful trip north. They enjoyed staying at several places along the Redwood Highway. Made stops, too, in Oregon—but the real purpose of the trip was a week's visit with the Don Andersons who live in Seattle now, but they, too, were popular former residents in Sun Valley—Walnut Creek, that is.

They sent "hellos" to their many friends here. The Magills included a quick trip to Vancouver and made several interesting stops en route home. Another Sun Valley family, of earlier days, the well-known Stan McCaffreys were at the Pleasanton Hotel for dinner Friday night. Beth's lovely "Auntie Lou" was with them.

What fun we used to have in the old (it could never happen again) Sun Valley days. The people I've mentioned plus the Art Lundblads, Ralph Gordons, Don Johnsons, Milt Vallens, Russ Ivys, Bill Wordens, and Charlie Swartouts used to get together for the most wonderful evenings. (afternoons too—real athletic with volley ball at the McCaffery's being the most popular). Potluck dinners, charades, dancing and, YES, swimming. Ho—hummmm! Marie and Arnold Nelson and their two very charming daughters—also were seen dining in Pleasanton t'other night.

Everybody's taking it easy . . .

Fern (of the Flickers) and Lloyr Ghigliere of Walnut Creek have been spending three weeks at Tahoe with their three sons. Dick and Janet Liebar of Cherry Lane, spent a delightful week of boating fishing and swimming at Castle Lake which is near Shasta. Happily for everyone— grandmother took over the two children. Nancy and Walter Edmonds of Orinda left Friday for a fortnight in Southern California where they will visit in Santa Barbara, San Diego and Hollywood, where they plan to take in some of the glamor spots.

As many of you know, Gary Williamson, one of the most popular boys who has ever attended Acalanes, was killed in an automobile accident a few weeks ago. (when Gary used to live in the Lakewood area, he often "sat" with our youngsters—and, truly, we have never met a nicer person). The "Doves," as a result of their many efforts presented a very substantial Memorial Fund to the Therapy Center in Gary's name. I'm sure he would have liked that, aren't you?

Well, I have one son off for four days—and now it's time to start packing for the other's High Sierra trip with Troop 220. Mosquitos, sunburn, dips in icy pools, his own cooking (?)—it's all the MOST. And may the "most" be yours too. All for now.

A TRIP TO NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., followed the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ramia in the St. Mary's Catholic Church They will live in Walnut Creek, after visiting relatives and friends in the East. Robert is employed in Lafayette.

League of Women Voters Tries Politics, Swimming

By MARIE MONAHAN

"OUR LOCAL "CIVIC WATCHDOGS IN PETTICOATS," as an article in Reader's Digest recently referred to League of Women Voters members, swapped THEIR crinolines for smart swimsuits and pulled pretty swim caps on their political-minded heads for a July 17 luncheon meet at Pepper Tree Farm, the Ygnacio Valley home of Erma (Mrs. John) Irving.

Members and guests of the Concord League began arriving shortly after noon for what promised to be a perfect way of combining business and pleasure at the ninety-year old homestead originally built by James Walker, California pioneer.

UP AND AROUND THE EUCALYPTUS-flanked driveway, the surprise architectural contrast of a free-form pool and its wide patio against the handsome old house. Here, President Edna Selley of Walnut Creek extending greetings from the brick steps fronting the colonial facade. With Edna were tall attractive Irene Malley of Happy Valley (she's president of the County Volunteer Bureau) and Eileen McLaren of Lafayette who looked smartly summerly in a moss-green flowered print and a jaunty narrow-brimmed straw.

NEARING THE POOL, we first glimpsed the hostess, with pool net in hand, extricating a grasshopper from the turquoise waters and OUT of the way of the swimmers. A foursome at a table under the fruit trees nearby was Sylvia Cox and Eugenia Draper and her daughter Lynn Stanaitis who introduced Eugenia's houseguest Betty Foster visiting in Orinda from Beverly Hills.

First in for swims were Roberta Spiegl, Orinda lawyer, who forgot to remove her pearls and Phyllis Simon, also of Orinda, who swam five lengths of pool before coming out for a breather at an umbrella table. Here she joined Madeline Benjamin of Orinda, Barbara Abramson of Lafayette (Her swimcap was tasseled!) and Phyllis Hartanov who had a tremendous beach towel tucked into her big straw bag (glass grapes colorfully cascading down one side—of the straw bag, NOT Phyllis!

Bathing suits weren't THAT FANCY!

Kathy Litsinger, vice-president from Pleasant Hill stopping here to chat, SHE in charge of programming, later conducting the meet.

LUNCHING TOGETHER, Concord members Carol Bell and Yvonne Mansfield, the latter just home from a convention-stay at the Hacienda in Fresno . . . Tee Emery and Doris Johnstone, also of Concord, were guests of Gertrude Albietz. Trips mid-west were iced-tea topics for two Pleasant Hillers, Henrietta Box, who'll summer in Iowa and Doris Lanning, who'll visit "back home" in Indiana. Carol Ammen, Dorothy Spott of Orinda together.

Business of the day, with many members rendering informative reports, took place in and around the shade of the grape arbor house . . . Several leaguers remaining in their suits to take advantage of a late dip before the homeward trip. Among these, Sally Germaine of Danville (a brilliant SUNBURST ablaze on her cap), Jean Anthony of Walnut Creek who'll spend some of her summer in La Jolla and Bernice Lindner of Danville . . . Estelle Moore of Walnut Creek and her committee rating a round of applause for a job dietetically and deliciously done on the box lunches.

WITH INCESSANT INTERRUPTIONS by an industrious woodpecker hammering at a nearby tree, one of the speakers appropriately using the Migratory Bird Treaty to point up the discussion of the Bricker Amendment . . .Tall vivacious Teddy Kridl, League treasurer, among those on the agenda . . . Billie Lou Craven of Walnut Creek being congratulated on her new status as State Board representative.

GROUPED COMFORTABLY on a chaise longue together, Helen Proctor of Concord, Connie Hunt and Florence Dickson of Lafayette, the latter, who is Membership Chairman, adding another member to HER family in October. A four o'clock dip for Eleanor Taylor of Pleasant Hill, Agnes Elfving of Concord and her houseguest Betty Read visiting from West Virginia, the trio chatting with Edith Snook . . . Marian Tickner, Lela Neilson of Danville in a group.

If all political and governmental reports were listened to, poolside and so pleasantly, to the fragrant scent of fruit trees and the darting of jet-like hummingbirds and dragonflys, the complications of amendments amended to would be ever so much easier absorbed.

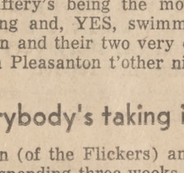

So long as that woodpecker didn't hammer away TOO hard!

Cheryl Ann Etzler Admitted to Davis

Cheryl Ann Etzler of Lafayette has been admitted to the University of California, Davis, for the coming fall semester, Registrar Howard B. Shontz reports.

Miss Etzler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dorr H. Etzler of 1167 Monticello Road, Lafayette, is a 1957 graduate of Acalanes Union High School. She will enter as a lower-division student in the College of Letters and Science.

SEVERAL TOPICS were chosen by the group as those most likely to interest a radio audience. Plans were made for setting up the first program. It will deal with the betterment of youth in Contra Costa County and the part that business and professional women play in this.

Art Center Sets Swimming Meet

An opportunity for new swimming experiences for the swimmer 16 and younger is being planned by the Valley Art Center with their Open Swimming Meet Sunday.

The meet is scheduled to take place at 1 p.m. at the Powell Pool, 4139 Los Arabis Road, Lafayette. It will be run on Junior Olympic Standards and a total of 108 ribbons will be given.

Seventy-eight of the ribbons will be given to the winners in the three swimming events: Free style, breast stroke and back stroke.

Rick Ostrom, well known swimming instructor who is at present in charge of the Los Lomas High School Pool, will be the swimming director. He will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Manske of Danville. Mrs. Manske is an ex-Olympic diving champion and Manske is an ex-University of California coach.

There will be 30 ribbons given in the diving competition and Don Garlington will be in charge. Don is a sophomore at Contra Costa Junior College and a West Coast diving champion in training for the next Olympics.

The admission is 50 cents for both participants and observers, and the gate take goes to the Valley Art Center Building Fund.

Mrs. Rawlings Simon is general chairman of the swimming event, and Mrs. Irving Roemer is in charge of the children's art from the Cooperative Art Association that will be on exhibit.

Other adults working to make the Open Swimming Meet fun are Mrs. Henry Anderson, chairman of the refreshments. Assisting her are Mrs. Bud Stewart, Mrs. George Hansen, Mrs. Ralph Olberg, Mrs. William Phillips, Mrs. Arthur Van Scheau, Mrs. John Hollingsworth and Mrs. Phillip Johnson.

In charge of prizes are Mrs. Frank Cardin Jr., and Mrs. Richard Ward and Mrs. Frank Malley.

Registrars are Mr. and Mrs. Donald McVean and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Scharmer. Treasurer is Mrs. Howard Stafford and secretary is Mrs. Willam Ornduff.

Dr. Clifford Feiler will be the physician in atendance and the life guards will be Mrs. Paul Byrne Jr., Mrs. John Bascom, Miss Sally Freedman and Dr. Joseph Lorber.

And the all important tickets will be in the charge of Mrs. Stanley MacPherson, AT 3-2966.

TROUBLE

It isn't only the drunken driver who causes trouble, the pedestrian who drinks is a menace, too. About 20 per cent of all adult pedestrians killed in traffic have been drinking.

SWITCH

In 1907, Dr. Hannah Graham, a woman physician in Indianapolis, made news by making house calls in an automobile instead of a horse and buggy.

Soltau Swimmers Enter Big Meet

Eight members of the Soltau A.A.U. Synchronized Swim Club of Walnut Creek will enter team competition Sunday during the final day of the Women's Senior Outdoor National A.A.U. Sychronized Swim Championships.

The meet will be held today, tomorrow and Sunday at the Temescal Pool, Technical High School, Oakland.

The team presentation will be called "Sailor's Shenanigans." Local participants will be Betty Casady, Madeline Deklotz and Nancy Stephens of Walnut Creek, Judy Laity of Lafayette and Judy Baumann of Orinda.

A duet called "High Notes" will be presented by Sharon Stanton of Walnut Creek and Sandy Ferro of Lafayette.

The duet competition will be held tomorrow, with preliminaries at 9 a.m., and finals at 7:30 p.m. Hours are the same for the team event on Sunday.

Mrs. Lorraine Soltau, the girls' instructor, said that the team has been enlarged from four to six girls, making the performance more difficult and complicated, and raising the number of points toward the championship.

Pre-meet activities will include a barbecue for contestants, coaches or officials at the Alameda Naval Air Station, Alameda, a Coke party and a dinner.

Orindans Swim Over Livermore

The Orinda Park Swim Team traveled to Livermore July 20 to swim against the Livermore Cowboys and came out victorious, 232 to 150.

Kim Olsen and Barbara Brush were high point winners for Orinda scoring firsts in their respective age group and also swimming on a winning relay team. Billy Cooper had three firsts and a relay victory.

Winston Cundiff scored an impressive victory in the Boys 9 and 10 Breaststroke. After two false starts he finally got away and won the 25 meter race in the good time of 20.5 seconds.

Perry Mann and Paul Rieger, both of Orinda, had a close 50 meter race in the Boys 11 and 12 Breststroke. It looked like a tie but the timer's watch gave the race to Mann in 46.8 seconds.

Orinda swept all five relay races.

Fender Honored

Gerald V. Fender of Walnut Creek, has been awarded a membership in the American Angus Association at St. Joseph, Missouri.

Fender was among the four purebred Aberdeen-Angus breeders in California to be issued memberships during the past month.

Babe Ruthers in District Playoffs

Conord, Redwood Nines to Tangle On Stanford Lot

Concord's Babe Ruth All-Stars will clash with Redwood City in the opening round of the district Babe Ruth League Tournament at Palo Alto today at 2:30 p.m. on Stanford's Sunken Diamond .

The Concord team advanced to the district playoffs last weekend with three victories in the county tournament held at Concord's City Park,

OPENING WITH a 10-1 trouncing of the Antioch All-Stars on Saturday, Concord edged the Eastern Division All-Stars 7-6 and whipped the Western Division team 4-1 in Sunday championship play.

The Diablo team had the luck of the draw against them on Sunday, meeting the Eastern team while the Western All-Stars drew a bye.

But after edging the Eastern squad with a ninth inning rally, Concord went on to whip the Western All-Stars behind the four-hit piching of Gene Case.

AFTER WESTERN had taken a 1-0 lead in the second inning of the game, Case blanked the west county nine the rest of the way while his teammates were scoring three times in the fifth and once in the sixth inning.

The piching hero of the tournament, Case, also worked the Saturday contest, allowing Antioch's American Leaguers only two hits en route to Concord's 10-1 victory.

But Concord came within a hairsbreadth of never reaching the finals.

Trailing 6-1 in the bottom of the seventh and final inning, Concord staged a dramatic five-run rally with two out to tie the game 6-6. The Diablo club won the game in the ninth inning.

THREE WALKS loaded the bases for Concord in the seventh, and catcher Marty Piscovich, Concord's leading hitter in the tourney, singled to drive two runs across.

A moment later, Paul Chaplik's bases-loaded double scored three runs to tie the game with Paul Kroboth showing fine speed in scoring from the first with the tying run.

Following a scoreless eighth inning, Jim Maples was hit by a pitcher in the ninth, advanced on a bases on balls and scored on a throwing error by pitcher Bob Gomez.

GEARY Limone relieved starter Bob St. Pierre in the eighth inning and received credit for the win. Losing pitcher Gomez was preceded on the mound by Lou Casso and Charles Morgan for the Easterns.

In the final game, an error, two walks and three singles accounted for Concord's three-run fifth with Ron Yamamoto's two-run hit the big blow.

In Saturday's game, Concord tallied 10 times on eight hits and was never in trouble following a four-run third inning.

CASE WORKED a total of 14 innings in the Antioch and championship game, striking out 15, allowing only two walks and scattering six hits.

The Eastern All-Stars advanced to the finals with a 3-1 victory over the Central All-Stars on Saturday while the Western All-Stars were trouncing the Antioch National Leaguers 13-2.

Concord Says: 'Move Giants To Hayward'

The campaign to bring major league baseball to the Bay Area reached Concord this week.

City councilmen enthusiastically approved a resolution at their Monday night meeting pledging "moral support" to Hayward's efforts to induce the New York Giants to move their franchise to a Hayward site rather than San Francisco.

The resolution noted that Hayward was easily accessible and was in the center of a population area of "five million people." The Giants would be considered an area team, the resolution said.

"Besdies," said St. Mary's graduate Councilman Tom Coll, "such a stadium would make it possible for St. Mary's and Santa Clara to revive their football teams."

Panthers Drill For Santa Cruz Football Opener

Members of the Contra Costa Panthers, county semi-pro football teams received uniforms at a special practice session held Monday in Martinez.

The Monday drill was devoted to contact work and was under the direction of Lou Coccimiglio, former Alhambra High gridder, who replaced Leo Peccianti of Lafayette as head coach for the team.

Peccianti resigned head coach duties because of an occupational conflict.

Joe Siino, former East Contra Costa lineman, has been added to the Panther squad which is drilling for its opening Pacific Football Association game with Santa Cruz Seahawks on July 27.

HERE'S HOW TO DO IT, BOYS, Ralph Herbert says to Bob Harris, Mike Fountaine and Roger Biddle. Herbert points out the fine art of bunting to lads enrolled in the summer recreation program at Springhill School.

El Cerrito Takes Legion Title, Blanks Lafayette

El Cerrito wrapped up the District 9 American Legion basebal pennant last weekend, blanking second place Lafayette 3-0 on Saturday and beating Concord 4-3 in a Sunday game.

The west county team, Louis Hagen Post 340, now has an 11-2 record compared to Lafayette's 10-4. The Hagenites have mathematically clinched the title since they will pick up a forfeit win from the defunct Pittsburg team on Sunday.

IN WHITEWASHING Lafayette, the league champions also interrupted a scoreless streak of 49 innings attained by Lafayette pitching. Joe Buell's second inning double off Steve Jordan scored Libby Knight with the only run that El Cerrito needed.

Jordan's personal shutout streak was snapped at 22 consecutive innings.

Lafayette, with only 10 players in uniform, constantly threatened but was unable to cross the plate against winning pitcher Allen Steno or reliefer Ted Jarvis who took over hurling chores in the seventh.

THE LOSERS put two men on base in every inning, four times with no outs, but were unable to score.

Outhit 8-7, El Cerrito scroed single tallies again off Jordan in the third and ninth innings in winning by their three run margin.

In other games over the weekend Richmond moved within one-half game of second place by trimming Walnut Creek 15-2 on 15 hits, Harry Ells clobbered San Pablo whipped Concord 10-7.

CONCORD HAD its usual hitting difficulties but still staged two tight ball games, forcing San Pablo into 11 innings and leading El Cerrito 1-0 until the eighth.

The near - upset of El Cerrito ended abruptly in the eighth inning of the Sunday contest at Mt. Diablo High School field when the Cerritans combined two of their three hits with a pair of walks, an error and two fielders choices to score four runs in the eighth inning.

The game, called after eight innings to permit Babe Ruth League all-stars to use the diamond, was almost saved by Concord on a two-run rally in the bottom of the final inning.

MIKE LICHTI, who fanned 12 and walked six, carried a one-hit shutout into Concord's unlucky eighth.

John Flavin, relieved in the final inning, and protected John Anderson's win for El Cerrito.

Concord's defense blew a 6-1 seventh inning lead against San Pablo. The losers committed four errors in a wild 11th inning in which San Pablo scored three runs.

CONCORD ALSO took advantage of San Pablo misplays, tallying six runs in the seventh on three walks, an error, a fielder's choice, and singles by Bill Stone and Bill Locatelli.

Locatelli had three of the loser's five hits.

The standings:

Howard Greenhalgh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda

Here's a new kind of "calling card." For telephone calling, that is. These odd looking cards are made by a process called "printed wiring." In certain kinds of telephone equipment they can form electrical pathways, replacing an intricate maze of wires. I expect you've heard about Automatic Answering Sets—phones that answer your calls when nobody's in. Well, they've got printed wiring in them. The cards eliminate a tremendous amount of delicate soldering and connecting, yet help us bring you better service.

Fire's a big hazard this time of year. So it's a good time for us all to get behind Smokey Bear's Fire Prevention Campaign. They say fire burned about 9 million acres of forest land last year. We can help by being extra careful to put out matches, cigarettes and campfires. I'm happy to pass along Smokey Bear's slogan right here: "Only You Can Prevent Forest Fires." Good point for all of us to remember.
